Veterans of Iwo Jima landing are reunited

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Forty years ago this week, massive U. S. warships bombarded a small rock island in the Pacific Ocean for three days and, in the ensuing weeks, 5,800 American families received the dreadful news that their sons, husbands and brothers were dead.

THE ISLAND was Iwo Jima, a honeycombed monstrosity of caves and holes, and the landing there by U. S. Marines on Feb. 19, 1945, was 40 years ago Tuesday.

Before the heavy and bitter fighting to capture the island stronghold was over, more than 19,000 U. S. servicemen were wounded and at least 29,000 Japanese soldiers lost their lives.

The successful battle for Iwo Jima was costly, but the military initiative proved to be the giant hammer to U. S. forces regaining total control of the Pacific Ocean.

GRANITE CITYAN Joseph Wallace Jr., a Press-Record printer, was not on the island fortress, but his ship — USS San Francisco, a heavy cruiser and the fleet flagship, was nearby, closer than 2,000 yards from shore at some points.

The San Francisco was a key element in the U. S. Navy's task force of battleships and heavy cruisers which bombarded the Japanese airstrip, gun emplacements and pillboxes on Iwo Jima incessantly for three days prior to the actual landing.

"The gunfire was so concentrated you could sit out on deck and read a

Fatality this morning

George William Freeman, 33, of 1923 Grand Ave., suffered fatal injuries this morning, when his car crashed head-on with a semi-tractor trailer.

The accident occurred at 5:50 a.m. today on Route 3 just south of Fourth Street in Venice.

ACCORDING TO Venice police, Mr. Freeman's car was northbound on Route 3, when it crossed over into the southbound lanes, crashing into the tractor trailer.

The driver of the truck was Thomas L. Schroeder, 46, of Chilton, Wis. He was leasing the truck from Chizek Transportation and Elevator Company, Cleveland, Wis. He was not injured in the accident.

Mr. Freeman was taken by Campbell Ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was pronounced dead by Madison County Deputy Coroner Dick Mizell at 6:32 a.m. today.

Aldermen turn backs on housing plan

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Although Granite City aldermen appeared to be 'gung ho' on the idea of bringing in a new housing code at the last meeting, it appears that few are ready to serve on a special committee to study the issue.

A motion to appoint such a committee resulted in a 7-7 vote Tuesday night, thus falling short of a council majority.

ALDERMAN WOODROW "Woody" Moad, chairman of the city's planning and zoning committee, told aldermen Tuesday night that his group recommends the appointment of an ad hoc committee, to review housing code suggestions.

Sam Whitmer, Second Ward alderman, replied that he would not serve on such a committee. "This matter was referred to the planning and zoning committee and I think they should take care of it," he said.

"They (the committee) should be the ones to work on it. I served on the last two ad-hoc committees that the mayor appointed, but I won't serve on this one. It's about time the work on this council was divided up."

WHITMER ALSO added that he had contacted Mike DeRuntz, one of the city engineers, and asked what inquiries had been made into the housing issue. "DeRuntz said no one had even contacted him on this," he said.

Alderman Paul Fisk reiterated the problems he had trying to coordinate a proposal for a new housing code six years ago. "I think people should think of this project as a way to protect the buyer," he said. "We have a lot of young people out there looking for a home. I've bought two houses myself and I still am not sure what things I should be looking for."

Alderman Moad, replying to Whitmer's statement, said that the planning and zoning committee is not the only city group that is qualified to be looking at the housing problems. "There are a lot of committees this could be in," he said. "If he (Whitmer) doesn't want to serve, what does he care whether or not there's an ad-hoc committee appointed?"

ALDERMAN SHARON Perjak, the council member who spearheaded the most recent push for a housing code, told the council that she has been working on a proposal, despite what some may have heard. She said she has requested copies of the housing codes from various Metro-East cities. She said that, to date, she has received a copy of the code used in Brentwood, Mo.

Carl Kittel, Third Ward alderman, reminded the council that the costs to be set up in the new code will only be incurred once, when an owner sells his property. "The slum landlords are the ones that are against the costs," he said. "I wish some of the honest property owners here in town would realize this."

Those voting against establishing an ad-hoc committee were Aldermen Whitmer, Everett Morien, Fred "Pat" Schuman, Kittel, Stephen Saltich, Lloyd Bailey and Phillip Miller.

THOSE VOTING IN FAVOR of the committee were Aldermen Casmer Skubish, Paul Fisk, Sharon Perjak, Jake Varadian, Moad, Mike Modrusic and Paul Ray Bowler.

After the vote, Modrusic commented that, whether or not a particular alderman wished to serve on a committee, he should not tell others that it is their turn to do the work. "We are all here to serve the people," he said.

Council 'smoking' on alarm issue

Despite the success of Granite City's recent smoke alarm sale, at least two aldermen were fuming about the way the program was announced.

Alderman Sharon Perjak told city council members Tuesday night that she knew nothing of the program until she read about it in the Press-Record, despite the fact that she is a member of the fire and water committee. She also was upset by Alderman Stephen Saltich's comment (chairman of the committee) that the committee and the mayor had been discussing such a program since last October.

"I SAW NO reason to hide this program, political reasons or not, especially considering that fact that the funds for the program came from Community Development," she said.

Saltich disagreed with her saying, "The alarm program is the mayor's, not Mrs. Perjak's. We thought it would be a good program."

Alderman Woodrow "Woody" Moad said that none of the council members is disputing the merit of the smoke alarm program. "We just want to be informed about what's going on," he said. "Why wasn't the council informed that this was being discussed? It all goes back to the mushroom system—they keep you in the dark and feed you a bunch of crap."

program, it's a good thing. I understand that 75 percent of the alarms were given away free. And I'm sure the people who received them are glad."

Venice announces a fire alarm program

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Free smoke detectors for Venice residents age 65 and older are being made available through the Venice Volunteer Fire Department. It was announced at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council.

Obviously pleased with the free smoke alarm project, Mayor Echols commented, "This is a delightful announcement and we want to thank the fire department members for their generosity."

ANY VENICE resident, regardless of age, may purchase a smoke alarm at the cost price of $8 each from the Venice Fire Department, in addition to the free smoke detectors being offered senior citizens, Mayor Echols announced.

Venice Street Superintendent Tom Scaturro, a longtime volunteer fireman, said he was not aware that the program was to have been a committee decision. "I thought it was comparable to the mayor's paint program," he said. "I don't think the council has much say so in those types of things—I thought the alarm program was an executive decision."

"Regardless of how we got the Smoke alarms run out again

"We're out of alarms again," a spokesman for Granite City Fire Chief Don Parente said at 9:30 a.m. today, speaking about the distribution of the smoke detectors, which was scheduled to resume at 9 a.m. today.

Many Granite City residents were at the main fire station at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue before that time and the 850 detectors on hand were gone within minutes.

"We will notify the Press-Record when we are able to resume the program," a fire department officer advised.

Raises granted supervisor & assessor

Despite opposition from six Granite City aldermen, serving as township trustees Tuesday night, the board approved a 38.8 percent increase in pay for the Granite City Township supervisor. The raise would be implemented over the next four years.

The township supervisor currently makes $10,800 per year. Under the new ordinance, the salary will increase to $12,500 in May of 1985 and $15,000 in May of 1987.

ALDERMAN CASMER Skubish said that, although he had voted no on the original proposal, he would vote in favor of the ordinance, in order to be consistent. Skubish was referring to other raises the city has authorized for its employees in recent months.

Alderman Sharon Perjak, Fourth Ward, said she does not think that most of the aldermen are opposed to a raise for the township supervisor, but they are opposed to the percentage of increase. "What does the township supervisor do that is so good, that the mayor or clerk doesn't do? Nobody deserves a 38 percent raise," she stated.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, a member of the ad-hoc committee reviewing the salaries of city and township officials, said he thinks the raise is fair. "What a lot of people may not know is that the supervisor did not receive a raise four years ago," he said. "He has worked for the same money for eight years."

"THERE'S BEEN some talk and I want to say that the ad-hoc committee only considered what the job was and not who held the job. There's been talk of Mr. Hagnauer not being in this building—that he's been tied up in Edwardsville with his duties to the (Madison) County Board."

"But regardless of what people are saying, he's responsible for this building (the township hall and activities in it). I don't think the raise is out of line."

Alderman Stephen Saltich, Sixth Ward, said he thinks the reason the raise sounds so large is because the amount of salary with which they began is relatively small. "Thirty-eight sounds big, but you're only talking 38 percent of $10,800 instead of $20,000 to $25,000," he said.

ALDERMAN Fred "Pat" Schuman, Ward Two, pointed out that a 38-percent increase over the past eight years is only a little under five percent a year. He emphasized that the city needs to keep the pay decent in order to keep up the caliber of persons applying for the job.

Those voting in favor of the measure included Aldermen Whitmer, Everett Morien, Schuman, Paul Fisk, Skubish, Carl Kittel, Saltich and Phillip Miller.

Aldermen voting against the raise were Paul Ray Bowler, Michael Modrusic, Mrs. Perjak, Jake Varadian, Lloyd Bailey and Woodrow "Woody" Moad.

IN OTHER township business, trustees voted 13 to 1 in favor of a 20-percent pay hike for the position of township assessor.

The assessor currently earns $25,000 a year. Under the new ordinance, the pay will be increased to $27,500 in 1985 and $30,000 in 1987.

No raises were approved, however, for the positions of township trustee and township clerk. Those salaries will remain the same—$10 per meeting for each township official.

Shell explosion blamed on leak in propane pipe

A team of investigators for Shell Oil Company has determined that a cracked propane pipe was the cause of an explosion and fire Jan. 23 at the company's Roxana refinery.

One person was killed and seven were injured in the accident.

Don Baker, a spokesman for Shell, said the investigators concluded that water from propane had accumulated in the pipe. The pipe apparently froze in January's extremely cold weather and cracked when it thawed later on, releasing the propane gas, Baker said.

The investigators' conclusions explain the cloud of gas several of the injured workers saw moving across the refinery's dewatering unit just before the explosion and fire, Baker said.

He said the wind was blowing in an easterly direction, and the cloud of propane gas apparently came in contact with a furnace pilot light more than 100 feet away.

Baker said Shell Oil still is assessing damages to the plant. The cost of repairs is almost sure to be $2 million or more, he told reporters.

The accident also has been under investigation by the U.S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration and the state fire marshal's office. Baker said he believes OSHA is about to conclude its probe of the explosion and fire.

He said the state marshal's office concurs with the Shell investigators that the leaking propane pipe caused the accident.

The worker who died in the blast was John E. Brown, 35, of Bethalto.

Baker said all seven injured workers, except one, had been released from area hospitals.

Youth group hosts Valentine's Day party

A Valentine's Day party recently was hosted at the Von Dee Cruise for Mayor headquarters for a new youth group called "Cruisin' for Cruise." Refreshments were served, followed by a question and answer period in which the issues and candidates in the April 2 election were discussed.

The youth group meets every Saturday at the Cruise headquarters. Interested students may call 870-0006 or 451-8848 for further information about the group.

Recognition for Edgard Paddock

Edgar Paddock, a volunteer instructor with the Rules of the Road Review Course for Seniors, has been presented with a special certificate of recognition from Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgard. Paddock has been a volunteer with the program for personal reasons.

The course, designed to give confidence to senior citizens faced with taking their license renewal tests, is presently given at more than 425 sites statewide.

Paddock has been a volunteer with the program since its inception more than 10 years ago. Approximately 30,000 drivers have been aided by the program statewide since it began.

Ted Pearson, a field representative of the Senior Citizens and Human Resources Department of the secretary of state's office, presented Paddock with the special certificate for Secretary Edgard. The presentation was made at the Granite City Township Hall last week.

The classes are free and held over a three-day period. The Illinois

"Rules of the Road" booklet is reviewed and a sample test is given to the participants.

Pearson said that many seniors dread their license renewal test. Some, although perfectly capable, work themselves into a frenzy and others facing the test become suddenly ill. The review course is designed to ease the tension associated with taking the test.

Seniors familiarize themselves with sample questions and a vision test to help spot potential problems before the test day. Also, bad driving habits that have accumulated over the years are a major reason why some seniors fail the road test. The program helps show which are bad habits and how to eliminate them.

New rules also are reviewed to familiarize the seniors with them and help take the fear out of taking the tests.

The course is now given at the Granite City Township Hall and the Madison Memorial Center on a regular basis. Classes start the first Monday of each month.

SCOLIOSIS is a term describing an abnormal lateral curvature of the spine. 85% of the time the condition falls into the category known as idiopathic scoliosis, meaning an abnormal curvature of the spine not related to any disease or trauma.

SCOLIOSIS is usually detected early in life when growth is accelerated. Often the first indication of a problem is an awareness that clothing doesn't fit properly or a child's shoulders don't appear level.

A SCOLIOSIS SCREENING is a relatively simple procedure allowing your doctor of chiropractic to evaluate spinal structure. If a problem does exist, chiropractic can be helpful in arresting scoliosis and containing it before it becomes a more serious, crippling disorder.

HEAVY CRUISER USS WICHITA readies for action near Leyte, Philippine Islands, in this photo taken from another vessel in 1944. Joseph Wallace, a Press-Record printer, was a radioman on the Wichita and later was aboard the USS San Francisco, also a cruiser, at the Iwo Jima landing on Feb. 19, 1945. Both ships were part of Cruiser Division Six, Task Force 58, under the command of Admiral Raymond Spruance. The USS Wichita saw action in every major sea battle and invasion in the South Pacific, earning 13 battle stars for its crew. The Wichita and USS Tuscaloosa crewmembers held their 40th reunion recently in St. Louis.

newspaper at midnight," it was recalled.

RECENTLY, Joe attended the 40th annual reunion of the Wichita-Tuscaloosa Association, formed after World War II by crewmembers from the USS Wichita and the USS Tuscaloosa.

The local man was assigned to the Wichita prior to the vessel sustaining damage and his subsequent transfer to the San Francisco.

The reunion was the first time in 40 years that all six of Joe's special wartime buddies got together at the same time.

THE OCCASION was especially joyous for this group of close-knit friends of four decades ago, all of whom were about 19 or 20 years old when they last joined forces and lived through memorable experiences in their respective lives.

Wallace's friends attending the 40th reunion were Joseph Stout of Boston, Mass., Joseph Douglas and George Dodd, both of St. Louis, Ira "Izzy" Zautner of Akron, Ohio, and John Gecan of Fairfax, Va.

ALL SIX WERE RADIO operators on the USS Wichita and went through many sea battles and island invasions together on that ship and aboard the USS San Francisco.

Their sea actions included the Battle of Midway, where Japan suffered its first major defeat, Saipan, the Marshall Islands, Guam, the Admiralty Islands, New Guinea, Philippine Islands and, after Iwo Jima, the invasion of Okinawa.

In fact, the Wichita was engaged in every major battle and seaborne troop landing action in the South Pacific, resulting in the vessel's crewmembers being authorized to wear 11 battle stars on their Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Ribbon and two stars on the Philippine Liberation Ribbon.

THE 40TH REUNION took place at the Marriott Airport Hotel in St. Louis County, with 250 former members of the two ships and their guests in attendance. It was the first get-together held in the St. Louis area.

A great deal of attention during the two-day event focused upon the Wichita's Chief Radioman J.P. Moore of Spring Valley, Calif.

NOW 83 YEARS OLD, the retired Navy chief remains spry and still "is all Navy," Wallace said.

Known as the "Lucky Witch," the USS Wichita sustained no major damage throughout its extensive engagements.

"We were strafed a lot and the Japanese pilots came at us, but we received no serious damage," Wallace said.

ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS, while doubling on the ship's anti-aircraft guns, he personally saw an attacking Japanese plane, possibly piloted by a Kamikaze, plunged into the sea off the port side of the ship and the bombs from the aircraft land on the starboard side, as if an invisible umbrella was over the vessel.

In the Second Battle of the Philippine Sea in 1944, however, the Wichita was struck by a torpedo, which failed to explode but seriously impaired the screw (propeller) function and the ship was forced to return to the United States for repairs, manned by a skeleton crew.

UNFORTUNATELY, Joe Wallace was not among those remaining aboard the Wichita for her trip home.

Rear Admiral Charles T. Joy, commander of Cruiser Division 6, part of Task Force 58, transferred his flag from the Wichita to the USS San Francisco, along with Wallace and other crewmembers. And the war in the Pacific continued.

While Wallace and his friends were aboard the USS San Francisco, Admiral Raymond Spruance, Task Force 58 commander, took his fleet across the Pacific Ocean and maneuvered close to the Japanese home islands.

"FROM CARRIERS in Task Force 58, the admiral sent a thousand planes to hit Tokyo," Wallace said. "We were the first task force to do this," he added.

Joe Wallace spent three years in the South Pacific from 1942 until 1945, mostly out at sea where fuel and supplies were taken on board from supply ships.

He did visit Sydney, Australia, and got near a couple of other places, but these breaks in the action were very infrequent.

MOST TIMES the crewmembers were not allowed to go ashore, even if they were close to a small harbor, due to the fanatic Japanese snipers holed up in caves, such as on Corregidor, Joe recalls.

Prior to joining the Press-Record staff 26 years ago, Wallace worked at the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

He is a member of Almad Shrine Temple and an active participant in the Shrine's Oriental Band. He also holds membership in Triple Masonic Lodge 835, Scottish Rite Bodies, Niedringhaus United Methodist Church and St. Louis Typographical Union, Local 8.

The Navy veteran has a son, Joe Wallace III of Granite City, two daughters, Mrs. Lynda Callender of Rolla, Mo., and Mrs. Cindy Hamm of Belleville, and six grandchildren.

Wallace and his wife, Jean, reside in Granite City and are looking forward to the next reunion of the Wichita-Tuscaloosa Association, scheduled in Orlando, Fla.

Keep our mail in Granite City

"The check is in the mail." It is a familiar refrain businessmen hear every day, but there may be some truth in it if the letter was mailed from one Granite City address to another.

All week we have awaited a letter containing 50 names of junior high school students who are to compete in a band festival Saturday. "I mailed it Friday," the band director said.

It wasn't in Saturday's mail. There was no mail Monday, it was a holiday, but it did not arrive Tuesday. Certainly, we anticipated, it had to arrive Wednesday morning. Wrong! It arrived in the late mail Wednesday afternoon.

We checked the postmark. It was cancelled in St. Louis the afternoon of Feb. 16, Saturday. Considering it was mailed in Granite City and postmarked in St. Louis, we can only assume the band director told the truth, she mailed it Friday.

From Friday to Wednesday afternoon is too long for a letter mailed in Granite City to a Granite City address, even in a holiday week. We checked the rest of our Wednesday afternoon mail. Most of it was mailed Tuesday from St. Louis, Carbondale, Edwardsville, Paducah and other locations. Two were mailed from Granite City and one from Venice on Tuesday and reached us Wednesday.

Some late arrivals Wednesday afternoon were from St. Louis, Edwardsville and Arlington, Va., all mailed Feb. 15; Chicago mailed Feb. 16, and Collinsville mailed Feb. 18.

So why would be grudge about only one local letter that was late? Because it is not the first time, nor, we suspect, the last. We regularly receive cartoons from Copley News Service in San Diego, Calif., which we saw a day or two before in the Globe-Democrat or Collinsville Herald. We have protested to the post office before, but were told the problem must be in St. Louis, since the mail leaves here in a timely fashion and is delivered as soon as it is cancelled there and returned to Granite City.

It seems so unnecessary. With our large post office and numerous postal employees here, we fail to see why the post office insists on sending mail from Granite City to Granite City to St. Louis for cancellation.

It used to be done here and could be again. Let's take some of that two cents more per letter we have been paying all week and use it to hire someone to cancel Granite City mail in Granite City and get it specifically on its way to its Granite City destination. If that is impossible, perhaps there could be more "Granite City only" mail boxes distributed around the city for mail that is not to leave the city.

Says Madison firemen quick to respond

To the Editor:
I live in the city of Madison, and I'm a regular reader of the Press-Record. There is something I'd like to say. There are people living in this town and all they like to do is criticize someone or something continually.

This past Saturday was a case in point. There was a fire at the Madison Auto Parts Store, and, as usual, there was one of these people complaining about the response of our fire department. Well, I'd like to tell this person a thing or two. He would do well to remember that this is a volunteer fire department. Sure, there are people on stand-by around the clock and they were first to respond, and I might add their response was pretty darned quick. And the rest of the crews had to come from their homes or wherever they were at the time the alarm sounded. From where I was standing, I can sure as hell say I saw some very fine firefighting efforts.

These guys are out there doing what they are trained to do, no matter what the weather, or the time of day or night. And they deserve some praise once in awhile, instead of a kick in the teeth, praise from the cadets right on up to the chief. These volunteer firemen do an outstanding job. This was very much in evidence this past Saturday considering some of the equipment they have to use and the shape that the one fire truck is in.

I am also thankful for the city council that we have, and of their decision to purchase a new fire truck, plus the other badly-needed equipment for our city. I say it is money well spent.

Says economy strong and on the right path

To the Editor:
The employment data released by the Department of Labor shows more good news on the employment growth front. The rise in the number of jobs pushed the employment count to a new record of 105 million; this underscores the continued vitality of the U.S. labor market under the Reagan economic program.

Other data from the household survey gave a mixed signal in January. The overall unemployment rate rose from 7.1 percent to 7.3 percent and the civilian rate from 7.2 percent to 7.4 percent.

On the positive side, a record labor force participation rate indicated the largest portion ever of Americans in the workforce. Another encouraging sign is that the number of long term unemployed declined and the median duration of unemployment fell from 7.4 to 6.7 weeks.

The establishment survey also confirms an expanding economy. Business payrolls grew by over 350,000, with the gain during the 26 months of the recovery now standing at a healthy 7.3 million jobs. For example, in construction jobs, the gains resulted from lower interest rates brought about by the Reagan administration and good weather. All in all, the employment picture continues to look healthy. A hard look beneath today's numbers shows a strong economy heading along the right path.

Says politicians should have only one job

To the Editor:
I think Granite City voters have arrived at a point in their lives where they have needed enough political savvy to no longer need the benefit of a large political machine such as the Madison County Democratic organization. Chicago was mature enough to dump the old ways and I think we in Granite City are well overdue for a change.

Look around us, every governing group in our town is in some financial bind of one kind or another — from the park district, school board, street department and city hall; we can't blame it all on the state and federal governments.

We are told at every turn that we as individuals, have to face the facts and live within our means. Well, what about our elected officials? If they feel they can't do the job, then please, for the sake of the future generation, please don't run.

We need people whose only interest is the welfare and future of Granite City. Job control and political power have got to stop.

Surely you have heard the old saying, elected officials are servants of the people. I wish I lived as well as some of our servants.

For some, one job isn't enough. They feel for our own good they have to hold down two or even three jobs. What a joke. You cannot do justice to your families, your private jobs and two or three political jobs and do any of them justice.

Superman does not live in Granite City and we don't need one person controlling every aspect of our lives.

Be fair guys. Give us all a chance to make a living.

Was not impressed by Simon's town meeting

To the Editor:
During a recent pro-Simon rally termed by the media as a "town meeting," which was held at SIU Edwardsville, I commented and asked U.S. Senator Paul Simon the following questions:

"As a U.S. Congressman, you earned the reputation as one of the biggest spenders in Congress. 'Thus, you are one of the key contributors to the growth of federal government and the national deficit.'"

President Reagan has proclaimed what he has termed as the 'New American Revolution.' President Reagan views this revolution as an effort to reduce federal government's involvement in the lives of the American people, in doing so, reduce the size of federal government's evergrowing tax bite on the American people.

"Senator Simon, can taxpayers expect you to continue your advocacy of deficit spending, expansive federal government and tax increases? Also, what are your specific plans to help reduce the national deficit?"

Senator Simon is a seasoned, professional politician, and after his performance at his town meeting, I must say that he can work a crowd better than most. Even so, the questions I posed to Senator Simon appeared to embarrass him for a few seconds. My purpose for asking them was aimed at cutting through the government's long government town meeting in an effort to obtain an explanation of the good Senator's practice of advocating big spending and big government.

Once Senator Simon regained his composure, and after recognizing that 90 percent of his constituency in the meeting room consisted of students and senior citizens, he promptly proclaimed an ambiguous commitment to continue his big government, big spending philosophy on behalf of education and senior citizens.

Once one is aside the political rhetoric of Simon's reply to my questions, it becomes quite obvious that the good Senator not only did not answer my questions, he is a politician without a game plan.

Frankly, I am dismayed to think that Illinois has a U.S. Senator with a clear record on pro-deficit spending in a time when voters re-elected President Reagan with a mandate to get government spending under control and reduce the national deficit.

Yes, I too have children who will reach college age within the next few years. Honestly, I am not exacting how we are going to pay for the costs of sending them to college, but we'll find a way, and without government loans.

Yes, I have relatives who are receiving Social Security benefits and I do not want to see them in need. President Reagan has promised not to hurt those on Social Security, and I trust him.

However, it is the opinion of many that federal government is expanding out of proportion, when compared to the real need for services. Furthermore, this nation's debt, which is facilitated by unchecked government expansion, is robbing this nation of financial stability.

Senator Simon may have proven his ability as a seasoned rhetorician at his town meeting; but for the sake of the nation as a whole, let us hope he has the wisdom to put aside partisan politics and join President Reagan's initiative to get big government under control and to reduce our nation's outrageous deficit.

"WE'RE LOOKING FOR A FEW GOOD PENSIONS."

Military pensions

People visiting the Granite City Post Office Wednesday were asked what should be done, if anything, to the present military pension system which has been a controversial topic during recent budget hearings. Their comments follow.

Rich Putnick, Granite City

"When they do get their pensions after being discharged from the military, many times they're hired back by the government as civilian employees. I'm against that kind of thing."

Clyde Bradford, Granite City

"I think they deserve it. Anybody who's been in the service and been in war knows what it's like and should get a good pension. There's a lot of waste they could cut from the defense budget that would be better than taking money away from these men."

Thelma Norfleet, Granite City

"I think they should get their pensions, they deserve it. The proposed increase for the pensions is worth it."

Nancy Butler, Granite City

"I figure if they serve 20 years, they are entitled to it. They earned it. They do have to pay income tax on it, though. But they shouldn't make the old people pay income tax on their Social Security."

Wonders if Corky Townsend is known here

To the Editor:
As a former resident of Granite City and a continuing reader of the Press-Record, it saddens me to note that no one at the office there remembers Mr. Townsend.

I remember when as a newsboy, he used to give me my papers and we called him Corky.

I realize the paper has changed hands several times since he departed, but surely someone at the office remembers him, or there is a picture of him somewhere there.

In my opinion you owe him an apology, in print. In the picture, Mr. Townsend (Corky) is on the RIGHT.

(Editor's note: This letter refers to a photo run after former Press-Record publisher C. E. Townsend received his 50-year pin from Elks' Lodge 1063. The photo caption incorrectly listed the placement of the two men. We assure Mr. Wilhelm that Corky Townsend is well remembered here and visits us regularly. The error was made by the editor sending the photo to the camera room before writing the caption and then relying on memory as to which side Mr. Townsend was standing. That memory was, obviously, wrong.)

Recognize Lions Club for quiet generosity

To the Editor:

I am sure most people are well aware of the good the Lions Clubs of America do for so many organized charities and God bless them for it, but yesterday I became aware of the things they do behind the scenes, very quietly and with no fanfare.

I was informed by the First Granite City National Bank, which had received a most generous donation to the "Matthew Stephen Chenevert Memorial Scholarship Fund from the Lions Club of Pontoon Beach.

Because of the bad weather, our fund-raising efforts have been slowed some but, thanks to the Lions Club and improved weather we hope to continue so that we can achieve our goals.

We have many fine students in this town who want and need to continue their educations, what ever fields they choose.

Through them our dreams for Matthew can be fulfilled. Also thank you for all the donations, large and small. None went unnoticed and our prayers are for you all.

Upset that APA won't mix children & pets

To the Editor:
Our little girl loves animals and is surprisingly gentle with them.

After seeing all the photos in the newspaper and the displays in local stores appealing for help and support of the APA, we decided to adopt a kitten. Older cats and young children do not mix unless raised together.

After finding only older cats, we were told they were expecting some kittens the following week. I phoned a few days later, left my number so not to miss our chance. We were so excited I phoned a day later. The woman was very helpful. She informed me they might or might not come in that night.

The following morning I called to be told by the same woman that they had arrived that night and there was only one left. I asked her to hold it for me and I would be out shortly. At that time she heard my daughter and asked if I had children and her age. She said she would have to phone another woman. After a short time she called saying we could not have the kitten because of our daughter's age.

What is upsetting is that we had been told about the kittens while I was holding her. And then, after waiting over a week, to be told we could not have one. If I would have went in by myself, would they ask about children? They did not ask how many animals I had or what type of home I lived in.

Are they saying my child would harm an animal? A child only does what it has been taught. I grew up with a kitten and I wanted my daughter to have the same special friendship that I had.

They wouldn't have so many animals if they would adopt them out to those who really care about them.

I still support the APA, but should they be able to deny a child the love of a kitten or a kitten the special love that comes from a child?

CHILD AND ANIMAL LOVER

(Editor's note: Before adopting an animal from the APA all applicants must fill out a form which includes the ages of children in the home and other information. To protect the animals, kittens and puppies are not given to families with children 7 years of age or younger.)

SUPPORTS MRS. HAWKINS' WORK ON NAMEOKI BOARD

To the Editor:

I am responding to the article in the Thursday, Feb. 14, edition of the Press-Record concerning the called for resignation of Helen Hawkins.

That is the most ludicrous and hypocritical thing I have ever heard!

For a board that has allowed a person, or close member of that person's family, who has been convicted of a crime, to actually run for the same office he was accused of misbehaving in the first place, is, as I see it, in the "poorest of tastes."

Our board is supposed to act in our best interests. From where I stand, this is not responsible government.

Mrs. Hawkins is one of the most responsible officials I have run across in a long time. Her resignation would be the end of the general township's ability to have a voice in their government.

Aspirin for flu can increase danger of Reye's Syndrome

In the midst of the flu season, important new information has been available about the development — in teens and children with flu — of Reye's Syndrome, a rare but serious condition that kills 20 to 30 percent of its young victims and leaves many survivors brain-damaged.

The new information comes from a U.S. Public Health Service pilot study of a possible link seen in four earlier state studies between the use of aspirin in treating flu or chicken pox and an increased risk of Reye's Syndrome.

The Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences has reviewed the pilot study and found "strong support" for the link.

Although personnel from the Food and Drug Administration, the National Institutes of Health and the Centers for Disease Control will continue the study through next winter, the Institute of Medicine advised that the federal government not wait to inform and protect the public.

As a result, Health and Human Services Secretary Margaret M. Heckler has asked manufacturers to remove any recommended use in flu and chicken pox from aspirin-containing products aimed at children, and to add a warning to all aspirin-containing products against use for flu and chicken pox in children and teens.

The pilot study looks at the histories of drug treatments and other factors of 29 young people who got Reye's Syndrome last year. Use of aspirin for flu or chicken pox symptoms was the common thread shown.

In 20 of the 29 (whereas ordinarily less than half the young people with flu or chicken pox would be expected to take aspirin.)

U.S. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop, has said that most childhood illnesses are self-limiting and usually don't require any medication at all. Doctors often suggest that a child with fever simply be "made comfortable with cool compresses."

Of course, physicians continue to find aspirin useful and safe for adult, teen and childhood arthritis and other conditions.

Reye's Syndrome is a rare condition — a few hundred cases a year. It was named in 1963 for an Australian pathologist who described it as a swelling of the brain, combined with liver malfunction and blood chemistry disorders leading to most cases to death.

Improved recognition and early treatment of the disease has helped reduce the death rate, but still about one out of four reported cases are fatal.

It is crucial to take action quickly if Reye's symptoms occur — whether or not aspirin or an aspirin-containing product has been used. The first sign is generally persistent vomiting. The young person may be sleepy and lethargic, but still responsive. Within half a day, he or she can become disoriented, combative and delirious.

Untreated, the teenager or child can go into a coma and die.

Thus, Reye is a medical emergency. A child with Reye's Syndrome symptoms must be taken immediately to a hospital, where blood and body fluids can be monitored and a respirator used if breathing fails. Surgery may be needed, in some cases, to relieve pressure on the swollen brain. Therefore, parents are warned to act promptly if they suspect Reye's Syndrome.

MAN TRIES TO ABDUCT MADISON STUDENT, 11

An 11-year-old girl told Madison police earlier this week that she was walking along the 1500 block to Fifth Street when a man driving a gray car approached her and asked her if she wanted a ride. When she refused, he allegedly ordered her into the car and tried to grab her by reaching out the passenger door window.

The girl told police that she ran off at that point and reported the incident to the office at Louis Baer School. The man involved was described as a white male, 30 years old, with light brown hair and a heavy build.

Mrs. Odam on advisory group for foster care

Strengthening care and services for Illinois foster children is the goal of a Statewide Foster Care Advisory Committee announced last week by Director Gordon Johnson of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

Johnson said 15 veteran foster parents from throughout the state will serve on the committee. In addition, he announced seven other members representing citizens' interest groups, professional and community organizations.

"Foster parents are the hardest working, most dedicated allies we have," Johnson said. "They don't get nights and weekends off—they're on duty 24 hours a day. Through this committee, foster parents will now have a state level voice in the programs and issues which vitally affect them and the children they care for. I can't think of a more expert or compassionate voice."

There currently are 7,821 children under DCF's custody or guardianship placed in licensed foster family homes. About half of the homes are under direct supervision of DCF's; the other half are supervised by private agencies.

About 3,600 additional children who have been removed from the home of their parents are being cared for in relatives' homes approved by the department.

Johnson said input would be sought from all these families in development of policies and procedures to strengthen foster care in Illinois.

Johnson said the committee will meet at least quarterly to discuss such topics as training, discipline, dealing with abused children and other issues suggested to committee members by local foster parents. Dr. Rolando de la Torre, a child psychiatrist in Lake Forest, is the committee chairman. Nancy Peterson, a foster parent from Brimfield, is vice-chairperson. All members were appointed by Johnson and will serve without pay.

Among those on the Foster Parent Advisory Committee is Jepphine Odam, 1239 Klein St., Venice.

Illinois News

TEEN BIRTHS — Illinois teenagers in 1983 gave birth to more than 24,000 infants, representing 13.6 percent of all births in the state, according to Thomas B. Kirkpatrick Jr., director of the Illinois Department of Public Health. Teenage pregnancy statistics also demonstrate that infants of teens run the highest risk of dying within the first year of life.

FOSTER CARE — Illinois Department of Children and Family Services Director Gordon Johnson has announced the formation of a Statewide Foster Care Advisory Committee, consisting of 15 veteran foster parents from throughout the state and seven other members representing citizen interest groups, professional and community organizations. The goal of the committee is to strengthen care and services for Illinois foster children. There are currently 7,821 children under DCF's custody or guardianship placed in licensed foster family homes.

DON'T PANIC — The recently proposed federal financial aid cuts should not throw parents and students into a panic, says Bob Clement, Illinois State Scholarship Commission spokesman. Clement says two very important points must be understood. First, the cuts are proposed—no action has been taken by Congress. Second, the cuts, if they are approved, would not be effective until the 1986-87 school year.

BLASTER RULES — Illinois Department of Mines and Minerals is proposing the adoption of new rules requiring the training, examination and certification of all persons responsible for the use of explosives in a surface coal mining operation. The rules, Sections 1850.5, 1850.15-17 of the Surface Coal Mining Land Conservation and Reclamation Act, are to be published in the Illinois Register, Vol. 9, Issue 7, Feb. 15, commencing a 30-day public comment period.

EDUCATION REFORM — Governor Thompson will address a joint session of the Illinois Legislature, Feb. 27 at 12:30 p.m. to outline his proposals for educational reform and funding.

STATE PAYROLL — Comptroller Roland W. Burris reported last week the number of employees on the state payroll at the end of December was 114,266. Burris said the December payroll decreased 2,322 or 2.0 percent from the previous month due to the seasonal drop in help at colleges and universities.

DISASTER AREAS — Thirty-six additional Illinois counties have been declared federal disaster areas by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and 30 more counties will receive disaster area status because of their adjacent location to the primary counties. Combined with the disaster counties announced in December, farmers in a total of 66 Illinois counties will now be eligible for assistance as a result of losses sustained due to drought and wind in the 1984 crop year. Madison County was among those designated for aid.

SEEDLING SALES — The Department of Conservation's annual seedling sale program comes to an end March 31. The seedling trees and shrubs are used for conservation plantings throughout the state to provide wildlife habitat, control soil erosion, create windbreaks and to grow forest products.

Hacke receives Silver Beaver

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hacke Sr. of 26 Riviera Drive recently received word that their son, Charles Max Hacke of Reseda, Calif., is a recipient of the Silver Beaver — the highest national council recognition that can be awarded by a local council of the Boy Scouts of America. Hacke has continued his service to the Scouting program since moving to the coast in 1974.

The presentation of the award was made during the Great Western Diamond Jubilee Recognition Dinner at Sportsmen's Lodge in Studio City, Calif. Leo McCarthy, lieutenant governor of the state, was the guest speaker.

According to Mrs. Hacke, her son was born in Granite City, where he became a Cub Scout in 1955 at 11 and earned Eagle ranking. As an adult Scout, he first served as assistant Scoutmaster, merit badge counselor and later as a unit commissioner and assistant district commissioner. He presently is district commissioner for the West Valley District. Hacke has earned the Commissioner's Arrowhead Honor and the Commissioner's Key. He also has received the Commissioner of the Year Award and West Valley District's Award of Merit. He is a vigil honor member of the Order of the Arrow.

Hacke served with the Navy Seabees in Vietnam; San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Quantico Base in Cuba. In Granite City, he taught scuba diving for the YMCA. He belongs to the Plumbing, Heating and Cooling Contractors Association and owns a business with his father-in-law.

He and his wife, the former Carol Albison of Granite City, have a daughter, Kristina Lynn, who is a junior in high school.

Scouting Council officials commented during the presentation of Hacke's award: "Charles is especially effective in restoring leadership and morale to Scout troops. Cub packs and Explorer posts that, for any reason, have been weakened. A larger number of new healthy units owe their existence to his determination and skill."

"This Scout, with his strong administrative talents, charismatic personality and his genuine concern for and help to individual leaders has contributed much to the positive morale of his district and our council."

MOOSE LODGE SCHEDULES COUNTRY SAUSAGE DINNER

The Granite City Moose Lodge at 19th and Adams streets will host a country pork sausage and sauerkraut dinner from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 23.

The dinner includes mashed potatoes, green beans, corn and dessert for $4 for adults and $2 for children under 12 years of age.

Council appointment breaks GC tradition

In a move that broke with tradition Tuesday night, Granite City aldermen appointed Alderman Paul Ray Bowler as mayor pro-tem, on an 8 to 6 vote. Bowler served as mayor for the night, in the absence of Mayor Paul Schulz.

According to Granite City Clerk Robert W. Stevens, usually the alderman with the most seniority on the council is the alderman picked, this being Alderman Sam Whitmer.

STEVENS admitted that the approval of Bowler was "most unusual," but said that it was not irregular for someone other than the senior alderman to be picked.

Although Whitmer was not voted in, he was nominated for the office. But Whitmer voted in favor of Bowler's appointment.

Those aldermen voting in favor of Bowler's appointment were Whitmer, Bowler, Michael Modrusic, Sharon Perjak, Jake Varadian and Stephen Saltich.

THOSE ALDERMEN against the appointment were Everett Morlen, Paul Fisk, Casmer Skubish, Carl Kittel and Phillip Miller.

Workshop on health & life

Maintaining a healthier lifestyle is the theme of a two-session workshop entitled "Managing Stress and Your Health" sponsored by Country Companies, in cooperation with the Madison County Farm Bureau Women's Committee.

Country Companies, a group of insurance and investment service companies, is affiliated with the Illinois Farm Bureau. The health and safety of Illinois residents is a major concern of the Country Companies, who conduct 15 safety and health programs annually to more than 100,000 people.

The workshop is scheduled for March 5 and 6 at the Madison County Farm Bureau building, 900 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville.

Dave Hawthorne of the Country Companies public relations department will be the facilitator for the workshop. Hawthorne is one of four facilitators who are conducting the workshop for Farm Bureau members around the state.

Topics to be covered will include weight control, effects of hypertension on health, effects of smoking, alcohol and drugs on health, good nutrition and stress management.

A $4 fee per attendee (or $7 per couple) will be charged to participants to cover the costs of materials used in conducting the workshop. The program will begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at noon each day.

Attendees should attend both sessions and should be Farm Bureau members. Both husband and wife should attend so that they can be supportive of each other in changing to a healthier lifestyle.

To make reservations for the workshop or to obtain further information, interested persons may contact Kay Losch, chairman of the women's committee, at 1-254-8136 or the Farm Bureau office, 1-656-5191.

ECOLS' RE-ELECTION COMMITTEE MEETS SATURDAY

All Venice residents wishing to assist the volunteer group are being invited to attend, Charles Collins, committee chairman, advised.

The Rev. John Henry Williams is serving as organizer and Donna Miller is the committee's secretary-treasurer, it was announced.

Child care program expanding into the Granite City area

Since June 1984, 23 children from 12 families living in 10 communities in Bond, Clinton and Washington counties have been receiving quality child care through the Developmental Family Day Care Project, which now is being expanded into this area. This project was sponsored by Illinois Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS), and was funded by the National Center for Child Abuse and Neglect for a one-year period. The goal of the project is to provide quality out-of-home child care for young children living in families experiencing high stress — stress great enough to trigger abuse or neglect. In addition, the project aims at improving the caregiving skills of these children's parents. Infants, toddlers, and preschoolers have been receiving quality child care in family day care homes for 3, 4, or 4½ days each week in the towns of Greenville, Nashville, Carlyle, Centralia, Hoffman and Coulterville. Over the past eight months of child care, parents, DCFS staff and project staff have seen many positive changes in the children's growth and development as a result of this new intervention. DCFS has made the commitment to continue this project now that the federal funds are ending. Beyond serving rural communities in Bond, Clinton and Washington Counties, this month the project staff is expanding the program into the Granite City region.

Currently project staff members are recruiting providers to serve young children. Family day care providers will care for children (infant to preschool age) 20 to 35 hours each week. Providers are reimbursed for transporting children to and from their homes. In addition, they receive $10 per day for each child under their care. Persons interested in receiving more information about this project may contact: Dr. Carol S. Kline, project director, or Sandra L. Hubbard, program coordinator, in the Granite City field office of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, at 878-8985.

Anti-abortion letter provokes GC aldermen

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH of the Press-Record

Several Granite City aldermen, became angry Tuesday night, when a letter read concerning the Hope Clinic, implied that local aldermen are in favor of abortions.

The letter, written by Geraldine Hursey of Lexington Court, says in part, "this death-murder chamber where the most helpless of all human beings are tortured before gasping their first last breath of life, is fully protected by the Supreme Court decision of 1973. As such it also has the full and complete protection of the Granite City jurisdiction."

THE LETTER GOES on to say that she is trying to place an anti-abortion billboard on the medical center property. She rai into a roadblock, however, when she was told this would cost her $3,000, due to a city ordinance.

Alderman Paul Fisk, Third Ward, called the letter "hogwash. I am not for abortion!" he said. "For her (Mrs. Hursey) to make this type of accusation is assinine."

Carl Kittel, Third Ward Alderman also was upset by the letter. "For her to say this is being supported in our jurisdiction is not right," he said. "She's saying that what's happening is not up to par with what's going on nationwide. But we have no jurisdiction in this area. Someone should let her know this."

ALDERMAN WOODROW "Woody" Moad disagreed, saying that he does not think the letter is inappropriate. "It's a good thing we live in America, where people have the freedom to speak their minds!" he said. "I don't think it's assinine. I think it's good that people have the right to say whether or not they like something."

Sam Whitmer, Second Ward alderman, said the letter should never have been brought to the city council floor. "This letter pertains to her (Mrs. Hursey's) religion," he said. "It's not religion we're concerned with here, it's the business of the city."

Fisk said that he wanted to clarify his point. "I am not denying her (Mrs. Hursey) the right to put her feelings in a letter," he said. "But I am objecting to her statement saying 'As such, it has the full and complete protection of the Granite City jurisdiction.'"

For her to IN favor of abortion. For her to IN it all together and blame the legalization of abortion on us (the aldermen) is assinine!"

Wolf appointed to House committees

Illinois House Speaker Michael J. Madigan has appointed State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) to the House Committees on Transportation & Motor Vehicles, Financial Institutions, Elections, and the Select Committee on Small Business.

"My appointment to the Transportation Committee poses a keen challenge this year," Wolf said. "My chief role will be to ensure that the 11th District secures an equitable share of state dollars for much-needed road projects."

Wolf noted that he is sponsoring major legislation to revitalize the state's ailing infrastructure in an effort to upgrade crumbling roads, sewers and water systems which the state. Wolf's plan calls for more than $151 million in state and federally loaned dollars which would be earmarked toward local projects over the next 10 years.

"I'm vitally concerned with our infrastructure needs and am convinced that without a massive infusion of state and federal dollars, we're essentially jeopardizing our chances of true economic renewal," he added. The Transportation Committee is directly responsible for regulating aircraft pilots and landing facilities, railroad grade crossings and the creation of part and mass transit districts.

Additionally, the committee handles legislation for roads, flood control, maintenance and development of waterways, the duties of the Department of Transportation and the operation and registration of motor vehicles within the state.

"This also is an especially exciting time to be on the Financial Institutions Committee," Wolf said, "in light of all the recent efforts to deregulate the industry."

The Financial Institutions Committee is charged with legislation affecting banks, savings and loan associations, currency exchanges and credit unions, including matters dealing with interest rates, mortgages, consumer credit and real estate.

"The Small Business Committee

presents an important opportunity this year, given the threat of impending federal cuts in small business programs," Wolf said. "With small businesses generating up to 70 percent of all new jobs, it's imperative that we continue to develop incentive programs which will help foster the expansion of the small business community."

The Elections Committee considers legislation governing the election procedures for national, state and local government officials.

Moreover, Speaker Madigan has reappointed Wolf as chairman of the committee on Personnel & Pensions, which deals with bills amending the 17 public retirement systems, including Social Security, and legislation pertaining to civil service.

Allen contends Weber mismanaged his office

By JIM WOODCOCK

Madison County State's Attorney Dick Allen says he will call a press conference next week to call attention to mismanagement when Don Weber held the office.

Allen said about $456,000 in office bills was left unpaid by Weber and two years of reports to the state were never made.

Allen said he will show reporters seven boxes of documents that were not processed by Weber during the time he was state's attorney — from 1980 until he left office following his loss in November.

The state's attorney said the backlog of work has kept his assistants busy when they could be doing other things related to the office.

"Don was simply a terrible administrator," Allen told a reporter. "Don never practiced law, so he had no idea what running an office was all about. He just let things go."

Allen said several items Weber left unattended included reports of blood tests, court reporters' bills, and reported over several years that should have been filed in the circuit clerk's office.

The unpaid bills will be discussed at the press conference, Allen said. "I've got all these bills just sitting here... I'm trying to figure out some way to get to all of this," he said.

Allen said he may have to hire extra help to take care of the documents which have not been processed. Allen said if the attorney general's office takes over the county's investigation into assessment practices from Bruce Locher, there may be some money to hire employees.

Allen said he thinks the office backlog resulted from Weber's concentration on criminal prosecution. "There are some things I'm mandated to do in this office. I've got seven big boxes of things he was mandated to do," Allen said. "It was a showboat."

Allen did not say when or where the press conference will be held.

DAV members urged to write officials

Robert (Bob) Kennerly, the commander of Quad-Cities Chapter 53, Disabled American Veterans, asked all members to write their congressman and senators before March 13th and urge them to oppose President Ronald Reagan's proposal to tax VA compensation as regular income. VA compensation can be equated to monetary awards for personal injuries in the private sector. Neither benefit has ever been taxed as regular income and rightfully so because both are payments for loss or impairments of some bodily function, he said.

"I will limit my remarks to this one item because it is so important to all of us and because I want you, the members, to make sure you have been heard in Washington. Here is a list of our congressmen: Honorable Alan J. Dixon, 600 E. Monroe, Room 108, Springfield, Illinois 62701; or Dirksen Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515; Honorable Paul Simon, 230 S. Dearborn, Suite 355, Chicago, Ill. 60605 or 210 Hart Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515; Honorable Melvin Price, 210 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515," the commander said.

Larry Lockhart reported that the Illinois Veterans' Home in Quincy returned Bill Knucha to Jefferson Barracks Hospital and that it is expected that John Kozak will be sent home soon.

Andy Gilchoff gave a report on the happenings at the Egyptian District meeting he attended in O'Fallon, Ill. Joe Hefferly announced the membership now stands at 430, far short of the membership goal of 496 by June 30th. We still have not received any details on a new plan by National Headquarters to attract members, he added.

A donation to the American Red Cross was approved by the members. Chicken and dumplings was served to those in attendance by Larry Lockhart, after the meeting.

Tax tips

Commercial tax return preparers must comply with specific requirements when making out their clients' returns, the Internal Revenue Service advises.

To guard against undesirable actions, paid preparers are responsible for providing a copy of the completed return to the client for his/her records when the client signs. Preparers are required to keep copies of prepared returns or a list containing taxpayers' names and identification numbers for three years. These records must be available for IRS inspection during this period.

Form 1040, 1040A, and 1040 EZ paid preparers are also required to sign and date complete returns and to provide their employer identification number on the return. Because of potential misuse, rubber stamps and signature facsimiles are not accepted by the IRS.

The handling of refund checks is also regulated. A penalty of $500 can be assessed against paid preparers who endorse, cash, or in any way negotiate a client's refund check. In addition, understating a client's tax liability can lead to a penalty of $100 for negligent or intentional disregard of regulations.

PURSE IS MISSING

Vicki Boyd, 3155 Rodger Ave., reported at 10 p.m. Tuesday that someone stole her straw-type purse from a pickup truck, parked in the 2800 block of Fath Avenue. The purse contained about $5, a bank card and checkbook, a credit card and driver's license.

The Metro-East Sanitary District (MESD) Board has approved a $2,799,831 tentative budget for 1985. MESD Executive Director Walter "Shung" Greathouse expects that

Hennessey picked to assist Allen

The Madison County state's attorney's office has announced the appointment of Granite City Attorney Robert P. Hennessey as an assistant state's attorney. Hennessey will be handling the Granite City dockets for the state's attorney. Hennessey attended Southern Illinois University and obtained his law degree in 1968 from St. Louis University School of Law.

Since 1968, he has been in private practice in Granite City working in the areas of personal injury, workman's compensation, family law, Social Security appeals and criminal defense. He is presently board and condemnation attorney for the city of Granite City, attorney for Metro-East Sanitary District and he is a former attorney for the village of Pontoon Beach. He is a member of the Illinois State Bar Association, Knights of Columbus Council 1098 and an associate member of Amvets Post 204 in Madison.

after a review of a line-item budget, the board will approve the actual budget next month.

According to the tentative budget, MESD officials anticipate revenues of $2,811,991 in the general fund this year. Of that, $2,168,000 is budgeted for administration, project, engineering, general maintenance, miscellaneous and contingency costs. Those figures result in a $15,091 surplus in the general fund.

LAST YEAR, $2,707,110 was budgeted for the general fund. Anticipated administration costs are higher for 1985 at $300,000, while the 1984 budget allowed $227,120 for administration costs.

But the amount budgeted this year for project costs is substantially lower than last year. In 1984, $1,692,490 was budgeted for project costs, while only $700,000 is budgeted this year.

Anticipated costs for general maintenance decreased by $33,500 this year, while anticipated engineering costs rose by $5,000.

GREATHOUSE CREDITS better utility management for the decrease in this year's budget, which, he says, is based on last year's experience.

He illustrates his point by referring to past electric bills from Union Electric (UE). Last year, MESD paid $73,631 to UE for electricity. In 1983, the sanitary district paid $293,536 to the utility company.

The reduction in the UE electric bill, Greathouse contends, is due to the services of a consultant who advised MESD officials on methods of reducing utility bills. One such method is to avoid operating the district's pump stations at peak demand.

THE CONSULTANT told MESD officials that if they turned off the pumps before reaching peak demand, the district's electric rates would be lower. Since peak demand runs in 15-minute cycles, workers at the pump stations have been advised to operate the pumps for under 15 minutes, then shut off the pumps and wait for a period of time before turning them on again.

Another cost-cutting measure was the elimination of an in-house engineering staff. Greathouse said that the board has reduced expenditures for engineering costs from $140,000 "about five or six years ago" to the current $30,000 through the use of consulting engineers.

Other budget items call for anticipated revenues of $130,868 for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund (IMRF). But MESD officials expect to spend $140,000, leaving a deficit of $9,132. In 1984, $144,000 was budgeted for IMRF.

A TOTAL OF $22,000 is budgeted for the auditing fund this year, while $20,000 was budgeted last year. The liability fund calls for expenditures $145,000, with anticipated revenues of $194,919. Last year, $272,000 was budgeted for liabilities.

Finally, the 1985 tentative budget calls for $328,831 in emergency service and disaster operations. The district budgeted $300,000 for those costs last year.

Raise for school superintendent

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

The Granite City Board of Education has raised the salary of Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Kraus, retroactive to July 1, 1984, when Kraus took the superintendent's position after the dismissal of former Superintendent B.J. Davis.

Meanwhile, Board President Kelly Hogan told the Press-Record that the field of candidates has been narrowed to five, following the withdrawal of one of the candidates.

WITH LITTLE discussion Tuesday night, the board raised Kraus' annual salary from $42,919 to $47,151, retroactive to July 1, 1984. The total raise, including benefits, amounted to $4,600.

The board indicated that the increase through June 30 increased responsibilities since being promoted from assistant superintendent to superintendent.

Kraus, a Granite City school employee for 30 years and a past assistant superintendent for 17 years, plans to serve as superintendent through June when he will retire from the school system.

UPON KRAUS' retirement, a new superintendent is to take over his duties on July 1. Candidate interviews began last weekend and will continue through Saturday, when the board of education will talk with the last two of the five candidates.

A three-member Illinois Association of School Boards search committee trimmed the original list of 28 applicants to six candidates, but one of the candidates withdrew from the running this week.

Hogan says the board of education plans to narrow the current field to one or two persons, probably late in this month or early next month. The board then may visit the city or cities in which the candidate or candidates resides and talk with local residents and officials.

THE BOARD, Hogan says, hopes to make a decision on the new superintendent by March 12, a date set by an earlier timetable. However, Hogan admits that plans to visit the candidates' city or cities may set the decision date back.

In other personnel matters Tuesday night, the board accepted with regrets the early retirement of Gordon L. Galbreath, a welding instructor in the high school. Galbreath plans to retire at the end of this school year.

The board also appointed Mary Ruth Snelson as a varsity basketball cheerleading sponsor and Gary Morgan, a printing teacher in the high school, as assistant B track coach.

BOARD MEMBER Dave Partney reported to the board that the finance committee had discussed a report of the school district's financial outlook for the current and following years. Partney distributed copies of the report to board members, asking that they review the report for discussion at the next meeting.

The board approved a number of bids and purchases. A bid of $34,940 from Novotny Chevrolet for three vans and a pickup truck was accepted. Novotny's bid was the lowest of seven received.

The vehicles will replace three 1969 vans and a pickup truck, each with 100,000 miles or more, in the maintenance department. The cost of the new vehicles will be paid from the building fund account.

BOARD MEMBERS also accepted bids from N. Lee and Associates Inc. to conduct a feasibility study on the school district's present telephone system. For $1,680, the firm has agreed to analyze the present system, conduct interviews as to needs, design an alternative system, conduct a financial analysis and submit a report for the board's review.

Should the board decide to replace the present telephone system, the company will prepare a new system, develop specifications to solicit bids, evaluate the bids, recommend a bid and supervise installation for a consulting fee of $4,700.

N. Lee and Associates was the lowest of four bidders.

PERMISSION was granted to Warren Collins, director of programs, to purchase two True Data Micro Mark I Card Readers from Centaurus in Collinsville at a cost of $1,010 per unit. Although nine units were purchased last fall at a lower cost from Computer Country of St. Louis, Collins indicated that Computer Country has not maintained satisfactory service to the school system.

Bids on supplementary labor from March 1 to Dec. 31 were approved, as were bids for custodial chemicals. Rite Electric Co. was designated to supply electrical labor, Amso Plumbing and Heating will supply plumbing and heating labor, and Weber Service will supply air conditioning services.

A total of $7,781 in custodial chemicals was purchased by the board.

IN OTHER ACTION, the board of education approved the following:

— A request from the Granite City Park District to use the ball diamond areas at Maryville, Marshall, Coolidge, Frohardt, Wilson and the high school and the high school vocal room during the spring and summer months for practice sessions for the "Music Under the Stars" program.

— A request from the Illinois Kids Wrestling Federation to use the high school main gym, lockers, wrestling mats and clocks for the sectional tournament March 9.

An additional request from the Illinois Kids Wrestling Federation to use three high school wrestling mats and two portable wrestling scoreboards for the state tournament March 16 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

— A $984 donation from the Granite City Athletic Booster Club to renovate the high school baseball diamond backdrop.

— A request from the Quad-Cities Soccer Association to distribute informational fliers in the elementary schools.

— A request from Central Bank to sponsor an art project completed by students of Granite City High School, at the bank.

The board also amended the dates in its exploratory leave policy for the 1985-86 school year.

GC aldermen send zoning case to Supreme Court

A communication regarding a zoning lawsuit sparked a debate among Granite City aldermen Tuesday night. Aldermen did vote, however, to continue to pursue the case until all appeals are exhausted.

A case in question, Jones vs. Granite City, pertains to a request to change a residential district located on Johnson Road near Paddlers Swim Club into a business district for a communications-phone company.

THE CITY currently has lost a decision in the Appellate Court and has been denied a petition for rehearing. In the communication, aldermen asked aldermen to instruct him as to whether or not he should proceed with the case to the Illinois Supreme Court.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, Second Ward, said he feels the case should be dropped. "Johnson Road, Pontoon Road and Nameoki Road are places where people want to start their businesses. They don't want to start them downtown," he said. "I don't think we should desecrate the area of the city as a bedroom district. I think we should drop the case."

ALDERMAN FRED "PAT" Schuman, also of the Second Ward, said he disagrees with Whitmer. "There are a lot of individual concerns here," he said. "I don't think we should give carte blanche approval for just any business to move in! I think our first concern should be to protect the rights of the people who live in the area."

Alderman Michael Modrusic reminded aldermen that it was the recommendation of the city's Plan Commission that the zoning be denied in this case. "Until they come in with a recommendation to open those streets up, I don't think we should. We're talking about people's homes here. Some of them have their life savings tied up in their homes."

Paul Fisk, Third Ward alderman, said he is in favor of testing the city ordinance. "We've been beat before," he said. "If they're (the ordinance provisions) not adequate, we need to get some recommendations."

ALDERMAN CARL Kittel of the Third Ward said he thinks the problem the city is experiencing on the zoning rulings is in the judicial system. "I think the courts see it as the right of the surrounding owners versus how much money can be put against it."

Born in Parma, Mo., Mr. Stephens resided in this area 50 years. He worked for W.L. Waggoner Co. for 35 years as a truck driver and retired there seven years ago. He was of the Protestant faith.

Attorney general is asked to replace Locher

By JIM WOODCOCK

Madison County State's Attorney Dick Allen said he applied last week to the Illinois Attorney General's office for someone to replace Bruce Locher, the special prosecutor in the probe of county assessment practices.

Allen said he wants Locher replaced because he is charging the county too much for his services. Locher, a Springfield attorney, has been special prosecutor since May.

Allen said after defeating Don Weber in the Nov. 6 election that he would not seek Locher's removal from the case.

Locher led the grand jury investigations in last year that eventually led to a 46-count indictment against former supervisor of assessments James Barton and five others.

Allen said he had urged Locher to take the case to trial as soon as possible to cut down on expenses. However, the trial has been delayed indefinitely because both Locher and attorneys for the defendants have filed numerous motions related to the case.

"The whole thing could cost us about $200,000 before it's over with at this rate," Allen told a reporter. "The whole problem is with Locher's bills. The good thing about the attorney general's office is they'll only charge you for room and board."

Allen said Locher charges $75 per hour, the rate set in May by Adams County Circuit Judge Dennis Cashman when Locher was named special prosecutor.

Locher also charges that rate for the time it takes to drive to the courthouse from Springfield and return each evening, Allen said.

"I mean, really...from the minute he's in his car until he gets back," Allen said. "We need to save some money. If we don't do this, we'll have to lay people off and cut salaries."

Locher has been paid approximately $40,000 by the county so far, Allen said.

Locher recently filed a motion in circuit court charging that neither Allen nor Chief Circuit Judge A. A. Matosian have authorized the payment of another $9,985 for his work in November and December.

Matosian said he stopped approving the bills after Locher was defeated. He said Allen is not a party to Weber's policy that Locher be paid from the state's attorney's budget.

Allen said he does not want to get involved in the prosecution of Barton and the five other defendants.

Allen also said the attorney general's office will soon study the county's application and decide whether or not to intervene.

Locher told reporters he was not aware of the county's application to the attorney general's office. But said he was not surprised.

"I know they'd like that," Locher said. "I think it would be interesting for them to show how much they paid, and are paying, (special prosecutor Paul) Verticchio when he prosecuted Weber."

Verticchio led a special grand jury probe in 1984 that returned two official misconduct indictments against Weber. The indictments were overturned at the appellate level, but Verticchio is appealing that verdict.

Locher said there may be a conflict of interest if the attorney general's office intervened. He said one of the defendants, Alton attorney Merle Bassett, used to be an assistant attorney general.

Locher said he has considered filing a writ of prohibition, but says he is not ready to use that option.

A writ of prohibition is an application to take the case past the circuit and appellate levels, directly to the Illinois Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court would hear arguments from both sides on whether or not it should take the case.

"I know where I'm going," Locher said. "There's an order in which I'm going to take things. Right now, we're on schedule."

Barton, Bassett, former deputy assessor Gerald Bassett, Board of review member Fred Finck, attorney Robert Quinn and his secretary, Beverly Delaney, are named in the indictment.

The indictments charge the six with involvement in a scheme to lower assessments in exchange for contributions to a legal defense fund was established for an unrelated charge against Barton in 1982.

A hearing on the county's failure to pay Locher for his work in November and December will be held at 11 a.m. on Monday, Feb. 25, in circuit court.

MAN ESCAPES ROBBER, DRIVES AWAY IN AUTO
Jack Ball of St. Louis, Mo., told police earlier this week, that he narrowly escaped being robbed by a man. Ball said he was sitting in his car at the intersection of Weaver Avenue, and Jackson Street, when a man approached him, pointed a 30-caliber gun at him and asked him for his money.

Ball told police, he held up his check and told the man it was all he had and that he was waiting for the store to open so he could cash it. He said he tried to talk to the man, but realized it would do no good, so he fled in his car.

Salmon Stamp art contest is open

Applications for entering the 1985 Illinois Salmon Stamp Contest are available now from the Department of Conservation, according to Curt Bloome, DCC contest coordinator.

The annual contest is open to artists nationwide, Bloome said. The artist submitting the winning entry will see his work reproduced on next year's Salmon Stamp issue and receive a $1,000 purchase award.

Entries must depict one of the salmon or trout species found in Illinois (excluding brown trout, which is the subject of the 1985 Salmon Stamp design). All works must be done in water color, acrylic or any other color medium.

Entries will be accepted, Bloome said, from Feb. 25 until 5 p.m., March 13, 1985. There is a $10 entry. Complete contest rules and entry procedures are available by writing to the Department of Conservation, Salmon Stamp Contest, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Contest judging will occur in conjunction with the Sixth Annual Illinois Valley Wildlife Art Show, March 16 and 17, 1985 at the Continental Regency Hotel, Peoria. All contest entries will be displayed during the weekend show.

The winner of last year's contest was Wilhelm J. Goebel of Somerset, N.J. A limited edition of 500 signed and numbered prints of Goebel's winning entry is being sold through the Conservation Department, Bloome said.

Anglers fishing for salmon or trout in Illinois must purchase a salmon stamp each year and have it in their possession when fishing for those species, Bloome said. Additionally, many state collectors buy each year's issue for their collections.

Proceeds from the sale of salmon stamps are used exclusively to support conservation efforts aimed at propagating and managing the salmon and trout resource in Illinois water.

WOMAN BEATEN WITH GUN

She said she was struck with a pistol and a hammer. She suffered cuts to her head and hands and was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Willing Workers aid YMCA project

Willing Workers show their willingness to work by volunteering to help the Tri-City Area YMCA in its remodeling project for the new Nautilus Center. The Willing Workers' organization, originally conceived by Steve Ortiz to aid laid-off employees when the A.O. Smith Corp. plant closed, has since expanded to take in any person seeking employment and help him or her find work. About 190 persons belong to the group and meet on the third Saturday of each month at the YMCA to pool information on available jobs and give support in other areas. Most members want to get off any form of public assistance and frequently take short-term jobs at minimum wage, Ortiz said. Those obtaining work keep in touch and aid others in finding jobs, he added.

Seminar studies graphoanalysis

The Quad County Mutual UFO Network is sponsoring a Graphoanalysis Seminar, Saturday, Feb. 23, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Rascal's Restaurant, Route 157 and Mail Road, Collinsville. A $25 fee covers all course materials, instruction fee and a luncheon of steak, roll, baked potato, drink and cheesecake.

According to instructor Marie Matusek, graphoanalysis has been developed over the last 50 years to the point where it is currently being used by business and industry to sort potential employees by traits best suited to the particular career position.

Such study reveals honesty, loyalty, dexterity, ingenuity, integrity, artistic abilities, dependability and more.

Some clergymen and psychologists are now using graphoanalysis in their counseling and guidance centers, as well as in the school systems, to help determine problem areas and develop support systems, as necessary. Other applications include marriage counseling, jury selection, suspected criminal inclination or abusive behavior.

The mini-course will present the basics necessary for persons to begin analyzing themselves, friends and family.

Further information is available from Karen Teller at 345-7460.

Three Warriors

Champaign-bound Warriors: state begins

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

CHAMPAIGN — For Granite City High School's three state qualifiers today's the day. Today's the day that a whole season of take-downs, reversals and escapes is all about.

For those three — 99-pound Jeff Cotter, 105-pound Rich Wilson and 167-pound Steve Knogl — they will probably never face a bigger challenge during their high school days than this weekend's 48th Annual State Wrestling Tournament.

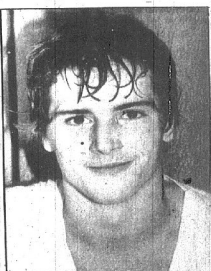

For Cotter and Knogl, it's their only chance now at a state wrestling title. They're both seniors. For Wilson, a sophomore, he may get another chance or two.

COTTER'S the veteran. He was there last year. He knows what the tournament's all about. Knogl and Wilson can only speculate.

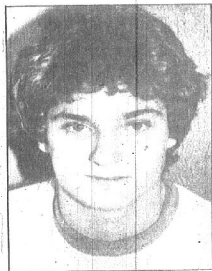

Many young athletes who have come to the University of Illinois' Assembly Hall are overwhelmed by the grandiose wrestling extravaganza. They can be told about it, but when the mats are unrolled and scoreboards placed, it's pretty tough to imagine the tournament's magnitude.

"They're gonna find out just how doggone tough it is up there," said Warrior wrestling coach Bill Schmitt. "A lot of the first timers who get up there are awed, frightened. They see the crowd, feel the hype — it gets the best of them."

"THAT'S where Jeff's got something of an advantage. He saw all of it last year. He knows more than the others what to expect."

Jeff Cotter

Rich Wilson

Steve Knogl

But what advantage Cotter has knowing what to anticipate may be neutralized by an injury.

Suffered from his right shoulder during last weekend's sectional tournament, Cotter suffered a third-degree strain of his right shoulder.

"We were in a guillotine and when I tried to pull my arm over my head, against the guillotine, I felt it snap," Cotter said. "It seems to be okay until I try to move my arm above my head again. Then it hurts."

Cotter lost that match to Wake, but went on to clinch third and qualify for the state meet.

"If there was anything good that came from his loss to Wake, it was that he's may not be put into a

"easier bracket" for the tournament draw. His third-place finish in the sectional pits him against a wrestler from the Chicago Public High League in the first round. The public high league wrestlers, traditionally, do not fare well in state competition.

Cotter, incidentally, is one of three Warriors who managed to go the length of the season without an injury. With a 39-2 record, Cotter says his ultimate goal is to place in the top five. He seems less willing to settle for anything less.

"I feel a lot better this year. I feel like I can place," Cotter said. "If I can get into the quarterfinals I hope I can do something with it."

Wilson, on the other hand, is less demanding on this trip. He knows that he'll have two more chances to qualify for the state tournament. As far as he is concerned, he feels happy being one of the elite 24 wrestlers in the state to qualify for the state tournament.

"It's kind of strange thinking of going to state. I never thought that I would have made it here this year," Wilson said.

"If I can get up there and make it to the third or fourth round, I'll be satisfied."

WILSON, 20-9 this season, is the only one of the three Warriors participating in the state tournament injury or allment free.

Knogl missed about the first half of the season due to an elbow injury, specifically, a dislocated elbow.

"Now recovered from that, he is battling bronchitis. It weakened and greatly reduced his effectiveness during the sectional."

"I still can feel the bronchitis a little, but I feel like it's beginning to clear up. I hope, anyway, that it won't affect me."

Knogl is 15-4 this season since rejoining the Warrior lineup.

IN ALL, there will be a maximum of 790 bouts during the three-day state tournament, including 12 different dual meets to determine for the second time in the meet's history the state team champion. Springfield Southeast, the team that eliminated the Warriors from team contention, will square off in the first round against Chicago-Marist, an all boys' catholic school.

Sessions begin today at 4 p.m. Friday's two sessions start at 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. respectively. On Saturday, the fourth session begins at 10 a.m. That night, starting with the

'Best ever' GCHS skaters whallop Chaminade

Doniff Spectacular

By JOE THOMPSON

BRENTWOOD — For Mark Doniff, of the Arena-bound Granite City High club hockey team, it was a show-stopping performance.

Three goals and an assist in the Warriors' most important game thus far.

Words of praise gushing from his coach who called his play the "best of his career."

Go ahead, Mark. Take a bow. He did.

After rolling in his third goal — an empty net tally — with 37 seconds left in the Warriors' last and deciding playoff-advancing game with Chaminade before a packed crowd

"Oh, I liked that," said goalie Tom Schnefke, whose heart-stopping grab with just over a minute left dashed the last Chaminade hope.

"If I was on the ice, I would've bowed with him," said rugged defenseman Todd Hinterser.

It was what happened before the goal that brought the highest praise from defenseman Bill Moore, who sparked in a non-scoring role.

"I liked the goal the best," he said. "But the bow? Warrior coach Garry Henson didn't mind one bit."

"They do it on Broadway. We can sure as heck do it in Brentwood. Mark deserved a bow. He performed well."

Garry Henson
Warrior hockey coach at the Brentwood Recreational Complex Monday night, the senior winger skated over to the rooting section of his foe.

STOPPING, Doniff turned to them, put his right arm behind his back, and bowed from the waist. It was a deep bow, too. Straight out of one of those Hollywood movies where the butler lands a featured role.

Doniff bowed not once, but twice. He then picked up his left arm and pointed it to the scoreboard, which gleamed unhappy news for the vocal Chaminade fans.

Granite City's Chaminade 2. Onward and upward. The victory advances the Warriors, 23-4, to the semi-finals of the Mid-States Hockey Association tournament.

THEIR next game is Saturday against vaunted Parkway Central, 24-2. The contest will be played at Queeny Park starting at 9 p.m. The two teams have not met this season.

Win or lose, the Warriors' would next play in the Arena, Feb. 28, where the finals will be held. Last year, the Warriors placed fourth.

Now, about those bows. "Very nice, I thought," said Warrior defenseman Dave Wilmoth, who was entitled to a few bows of his own with three assists.

to his final goal, he said, was designed to "shut them (Chaminade) fans up a little. Show them who won."

"CHAMINADE has very good fans," said Henson. "They do a lot of cheering. They do those 'in your face' cheers. They pointed to our goal Saturday night."

Ah, Saturday night. The Warriors' play oozed to the bottom of the barrel in a 6-0 loss that had Henson questioning the psychology of his young athletes.

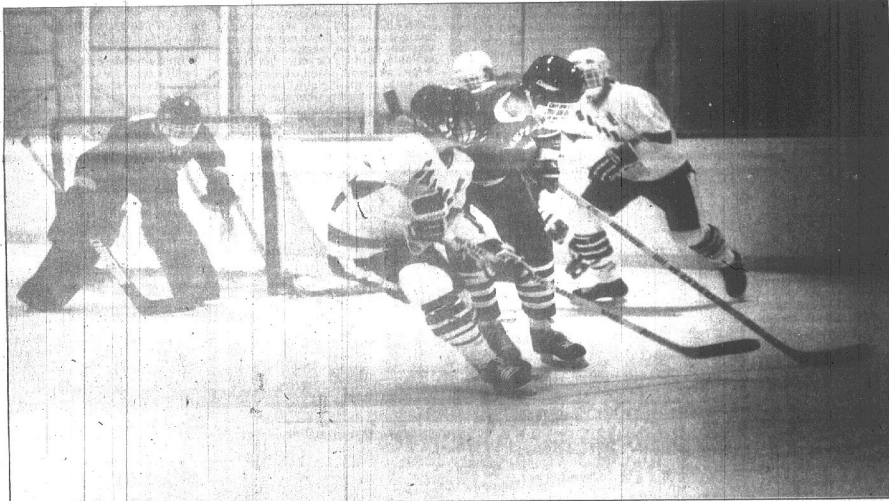

The Warriors were so abominable Henson spent all of Sunday in Brighton with a close friend, who trains and quarters Henson's race horse, Mexican Express, clearing his mind of hockey.

When he entered the lobby before the game, he said he sensed things were different. The difference?

"ATTITUDE, totally," said Henson, his faith in his skaters' determination fully restored. "Attitude and desire. They didn't have it Saturday. They had it all tonight."

"We were fired up," said Hinterser.

The Warriors, whose other two goals were scored by Matt Laub, surged to a 3-0 lead with goals in the first period and two more in the second.

SKILLFUL SKATER. While teammate Tom Schnefke guards the Warrior goal, Dave Wilmoth (middle) works to advance the puck toward Chaminade's goal during the final period of Monday night's Mid-States Hockey League game in Brentwood. The Warriors won the third and deciding game with the Flyers and earned the right to advance to the semi-final round this Saturday. The Warriors, with goals by Mark Doniff and Matt Laub, handily defeated Chaminade 5-2.

Doniff scored the first goal with just under three minutes left in the first period, picking up a shot from Dave Wilmoth that deflected off a Chaminade defender, and sticking it into the net.

EARLY IN the second period, Wilmoth and Doniff connected again — this time more spectacularly.

Sweeping deep into his own end, Wilmoth turned and fired a pass up the rink where Doniff, stepping onto the ice during a line change, took the puck in full stride just inside the blue line. He swept in alone on Chaminade goalie, David McCoy. His shot was true.

About that pass, Dave. "I just saw everybody coming off the bench. I thought, 'There they are. This could be the big one,'" said Wilmoth.

"The Warriors' got another 'big one' less than a minute later when Laub poked a goal-mouth pass by Hinterser into the net. 3-0. It wasn't just the large contingent of Warrior fans who screamed for more."

"JERRY (Roderick, assistant coach) and I got a little excited," Henson confessed. "When we scored that third goal, Jerry and I started chanting for four."

It was Chaminade, however, which scored the game's fourth and fifth goals. Their second tally which cut the Warriors' lead to 3-2 came less than three minutes into the third period. Twenty seconds later Laub, taking a pass from Wilmoth, stuff-

For State Wrestling
Marlin, Therry are Marshals

BLOOMINGTON — Long-time official Ken Marlin of Rockford and long-time coach Robert Therry of North Chicago will serve as Grand Marshals and lead the annual March of Finalists at the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) State Wrestling Tournament, Saturday night, Feb. 22, 1985.

Began in 1975, the March of Finalists is conducted by the IHSA in conjunction with the Illinois Wrestling Coaches and Officials Association (IWCOA). The two grand marshals are honored by the IWCOA and the IHS member schools for their contributions to the sport and the young men who participate in it.

The marshals play an important role in the color and pageantry of the event as they lead both the 48 individual finalists and their coaches and the wrestlers from the title-contending dual meet teams in a flash-bust-popping, stirring march around the arena floor at the Assembly Hall in Champaign. The annual Grand March begins at 5:30 p.m. this year.

Champaign native Ken Marlin wrestled in high school and college before becoming a wrestling official who served in that capacity for 21 years. A 1977 inductee into the IWCOA Hall of Fame, he is honored as grand marshal for the enthusiasm and expertise he has given the sport.

Twice he took a third place for Champaign High in the State Wrestling Tournament. At the University of Illinois he was a Big Ten Conference champion and an NCAA medal winner.

He officiated at many levels until his retirement in 1978. Named IWCOA Official of the Year in 1974, Marlin worked the state Tournament five times and served as a bench official five times. He also was a rules interpreter and an officer in IWCOA.

The wrestling programs at Rock Falls, Downers Grove (North), Wauconda and North Chicago all have one thing in common. Bob Therry started them all and in 1970 at North Chicago his team captured the state title. For his work with young men who participate in the sport he is being honored as a Grand Marshal for 1985.

During his 28 years of coaching, Therry saw his teams win over 300 dual meets. He produced nine individual state champions and 13 other place winners.

After retiring from coaching in 1978, Therry has actively officiated wrestling. He also has served as an officer of the Illinois Coaches Association, as a member of the IHSA Wrestling Advisory Committee, and since 1969 as chairman of the Scholastic Wrestling News and Amateur Wrestling News All-American Committee(s).

A 1975 inductee into the IWCOA Hall of Fame, he was named both the IWCOA and Scholastic Wrestling News Coach of the Year in 1970.

Continue To Roll Trojans ground Eagles

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record
MADISON — It is as American as apple pie, mom and a Dr. J. slam dunk. "Senior night."

The Madison High basketball Trojans played their final home game of the season Tuesday night. Before tipping off against their opponent, Coulterville, the school's senior players, cheerleaders and pom pon girls were honored.

You've seen the routine before. The seniors' names are called along with the names of their parents. The kids are handed a rose to give to their mothers. Sometimes, the kids even plant a kiss on their mother's cheeks before walking out to center court.

THERE was a hitch Tuesday, however. Deloyd Williams' mother was late. So, after recognizing the other senior players and their parents, the emcee skipped to other honorees while the Trojans' outgoing floor leader left to look for his mother.

When the final pom pon girl and her parents were presented, into the gymnasium walked Deloyd and mother. Big cheer from the crowd. Deloyd pretended embarrassment before kissing his mother. The two, arm in arm, walked out to center court. Big smiles.

You might say the game followed the same pattern. It took awhile for the Trojans to get untracked, a half to be exact. When they FINALLY got rolling, they left the place the way the seniors and their parents did — amidst cheers and smiles.

THE TROJANS thumped Coulterville, 64-48, to hike their record to 17-6 in their second to final tuneup before playoffs start. It was no gimme. Coulterville's Eagles sported a hefty 18-4 record when arriving.

It was also the place Trojan coach Rodney Watson got his coaching feet wet, so to speak. Watson held the reins at Coulterville for two seasons before taking the Trojan job.

His feet have dried, but they might have turned cold during the first half. The Trojans' shooting was as icy as a December day at the North Pole: Thirty-three percent (10-30).

"FORTUNATELY, it was good enough to open a 27-20 lead as Coulterville also got chilly in trying to find the bottom of the net: 9-23 (39 percent). The Trojan shooters did better the second half.

"What did they shoot? 58, 60 percent? It was something like that," offered an offended coach Curt Berger.

Close, though. The Trojans found the range at a 54 percent clip (14 for 26).

"Doggone," said Berger climbing the steps. "I didn't know they could shoot that well."

With their shots finding the mark, the Trojans allowed the Eagles to score the first two points of the second half.

THEN THEY reeled off the next six points to take decisive control. The Eagles, despite the bruising play of 6-foot 6-inch center Mike Hellner who consistently beat the Trojans inside in totaling 32 points, never climbed closer. History.

"It was a big game for us," said Watson, who received a huge ovation at the start by the large contin-gent of Coulterville fans.

"All the festivities," Watson said. "I really think that helped. It's fun to be in those situations."

The blood was circulating. Maybe too much.

"WE WERE a little too pumped up tonight," said Reggie Banks, the Trojans' 6-6 center.

"That's possible," said Watson. But once the ball was hit...

"In the second half," Banks said. "We got things rolling."

It was a good show, once things were in motion. Four Trojans busted the double figure scoring column: Banks (14), James Bennett (11), Williams (11) and Anthony Valentine 10. Another player, Anthony Newsome, collected nine points — six of the points coming off shots from long range.

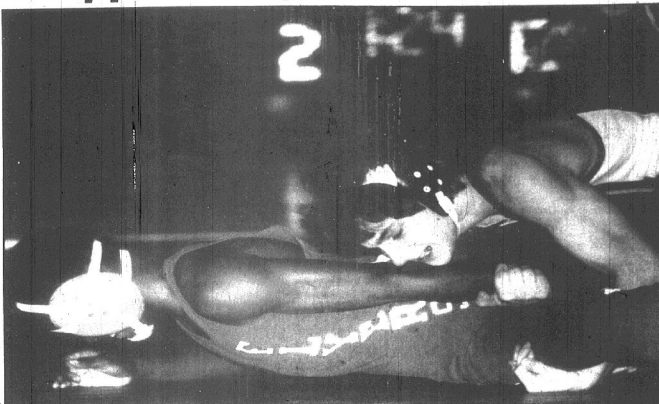

IT WAS a good night for the seniors, alright. Banks, Bennett, and Newsome are in their final year. So is Nathan Young, who contributed with two points.

MAKING A MOVE. Granite City High School's Jeff Cotter evidently had all the right moves in his match with East St. Louis' Henry Willis during their 98-pound bout in the Granite City High Sectional recently. The Warrior senior whipped Willis 10-6 and advanced to this weekend's 48th Annual State Wrestling Tournament. It's Cotter's second trip to the annual state meet.

Tigers Friday, Flyers Saturday Cagers need win to stay atop the SWC

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — With a one-game lead in the Southwestern Conference and two league games remaining to play, Granite City High School's basketball team is confronted with another "must win" situation on Saturday when they travel to East St. Louis to take on the Flyers.

"As I told the kids, we expect every week from here on out to be a must-win situation," said Warrior coach Don Deterding. "When it gets this close — near the end of the season — we've got to win every game. We've got to keep winning... Against East Side, Alton and then to the regionals."

With a 6-2 slate in the conference, Granite City is feeling the heat from second-place Collinsville. At 5-3, the Hawks were tied with the Warriors for first place until last weekend. Until they lost to the Flyers.

THE KANOKS travelled to East St. Louis Saturday to meet the Flyers and, ultimately, defeat

Granite City, which is 15-7 and led the SWC since conference play began, bettered Belleville West Saturday to retain their share of the lead.

"We're a much better basketball team now than we were when we played Collinsville or Granite City the first time," said Flyer Coach Coy Nunn. "I wouldn't say that we're looking to be spoilers, but we're looking to win."

The Flyers, who are 3-5 in the league and 11-9 overall, are experiencing their worst season in 13 years — since Nunn has been their coach. Says Nunn, his team is more concerned about avoiding that "worst team" status than they are winning the conference.

"I MAY have struck a nerve when I told them that they may be the worst team I've coached since I've been here," Nunn said. "We're playing a lot better now."

One of the reasons the Flyers are playing better is because they have the services of 5-foot 10-inch senior guard Ernest Taylor. Taylor, who was one of the Flyers' leading scorers last year, did not play against the Warriors in Granite City on Jan. 11, because he was academically ineligible. Now, in the second semester, Taylor is eligible and the Flyers are benefitting from his presence.

"HE ADDS another scoring attack to our game," Nunn said. "He's good for another 12 or 15 points per game." The Warriors won the first matchup by 10 points, 62-52.

Taylor, coupled with the Flyers' Sylvester Harold, a 6-foot 1-inch senior, will have the offensive firepower that East St. Louis didn't have when both teams first met, Nunn said.

As for the Warriors, they are showing traces of playing as well as they did during January.

Trailing by 11 points at halftime last week to the Maroons, the Warriors battled back the secure a one-point victory, their 15th of the season.

IT WAS also the first game that the Warriors have played with their complete starting five in two weeks.

"As of right now, we're all healthy," Deterding said. "And Scott (6-foot 5-inch senior Cant) appears to be back at 100 percent. He has no signs of suffering from the ankle injury." On Feb. 4, four days before the Warriors were to meet Belleville East on Friday and then Collinsville on Saturday, Cant twisted his ankle during practice. Losing both contests, the Warriors sorely missed Cant during his two-game layoff. He is 11th among SWC scorers with a 12 point per game average this season, and is the third leading rebounder in the SWC with eight a game behind Belleville East's Gary Leonard and East Side's Joe Davis.

IF THE Warriors are to be successful against the Flyers Friday, Deterding thinks Granite City will need to control the rebounding.

But before the Warriors take to the hardwood against the Flyers Saturday, they'll have to contend with the Edwardsville Tigers Friday night.

Edwardsville, after last weekend's lopsided loss to Collinsville, is 10-6 this season. The game, which is in Edwardsville, begins at 6:30 p.m., as does the matchup in East St. Louis.

For State Mat Meet East vs. West mat matchup

Two of Granite City High School's State Wrestling Tournament qualifiers, Jeff Cotter and Steve Knogl, will be among the several Illinois athletes who will compete in the East-West All Star Meet Tuesday, Feb. 25.

Cotter, who wrestled at 98 pounds for the Warriors this season, will represent the East All-Stars at 105 pounds. Knogl will wrestle at 167 pounds, the same weight he wrestled during the regular season.

The annual wrestling extravaganza, which pits the best of Missouri against the best of Southwest Illinois, will be at the St. Ann Boys' Club beginning at 7 p.m.

The Missouri team consists of 11 state place winners. The Illinois team consists of the best athletes from teams in the Southwestern Conference, the old Gateway East Conference and a few independents.

To get to the St. Ann Boys' Club from Granite City, persons should take Interstate 270 west to Lindbergh Blvd. Take Lindbergh south to St. Charles Rock Road. Make a left on to St. Charles Rock Road and follow for about a mile in to St. Ann.

Approaching St. Gregory, make a left on to St. Gregory. Follow for one block and make a right on Livingstone. The Boys' Club is right there.

ed the Warriors' fourth goal into the net.

Ouch! "That was a backbreaker," Henson said. "It had to hurt them."

ALL THAT was needed to decorate the Warriors' victory cake was the icing.

Ironically, Doniff nearly blew his empty net chance. With Chaminade employing an extra attacker after pulling its goalie, Doniff blocked a pass and found a clear route ahead. Only problem was Doniff couldn't Kristoff won at 98 pounds in 1982, with a record of 38-0, won at 112 in 1983 with a record of 37-1 and took third last year at 126 with a 42-1 record. Three others have won three titles, only one has won four.

Cloverview Garden Club elects officers

Cloverview Garden Club was entertained by Mrs. Kenneth Brokaw at Ervay's Restaurant with a dessert luncheon served to the following: Mrs. Clarence Etheridge, Mrs. Charles Gandoria, Mrs. John Jenkins, Mrs. George Knapp, and her granddaughter, Amy, Mrs. Robert McCauley, Mrs. Eldon Melkamp, Mr. B. C. O'Neill, Mrs. Louise Sedlack, Mrs. George Stearns, Mrs. Albert Taylor, and Mrs. Ray Williamson.

After the luncheon, president, Mrs. B. C. O'Neill called on Mrs. George Stearns to lead the club collection.

Election of officers was held with the following members elected to the offices of: president - Mrs. Ray Williamson, vice president - Mr. B. C. O'Neill, secretary - Mrs. Kenneth Brokaw, treasurer - Mrs. John Jenkins.

For the program, Mrs. Melkamp explained the use of the herb, Marjoram saying it has long been one of the most popular herbs. It is well known to cooks in the Mediterranean areas at least 1,200 years ago, and recipes specify it for salads, cheese, and egg dishes, with all kinds of meat, and rice.

She also mentioned that as Italian cooks have long known, the herb, Oregano is delicious with tomatoes and pasta. Puerto Ricans use Oregano in a basic cooking sauce for vegetables. It is used in many corn dishes, and stated that Oregano and chili peppers combined create the forerunner of chili powder, she said. Mrs. Charles Gandoria gave the study on the many herbs that are used for teas. She mentioned that at one time, every house had a herb garden, and every housewife knew which herbs to use to cure a cough, fever, or cold. Usually, herbs were mixed to an infusion, a sweet hot tea. People throughout the world still use herbs as medicine. The alternates-aspirin, penicillin, the antihistamines and vitamins, have only been used widely since the late 1920's. Of the many herbs that can be used for teas, most notable are mint, the lemon flavored herbs and chamomile.

Mints are sometimes called the candy herbs because of their pleasing flavors. Mint teas are refreshing, mildly stimulating, and stomach-calming. They are fine before or after dinner, and especially as a night cap. Lemon mint flavored teas are also excellent chilled summer drinks, the speaker explained.

She continued herb teas are an excellent substitute for coffee and ordinary tea, but some have medicinal properties that make them potentially dangerous. This is especially true if you drink them in large quantities or strong concentrations.

Some ingredients in herbal teas vary with the part of the plant used, the growth stage at which the plant is harvested and the growing location.

Be absolutely sure of the identity of the plant you harvest for use in an herbal tea. Senna pods or senna tea is a very strong laxative and tea made from the peeled bark of the sassafras root contains safrole, a liver enzyme inhibitor suspected of increasing the risk of cancer.

Chamomile tea can adversely affect people with rag-week allergies. Burdock tea becomes toxic if steeped too long, and Alfalfa tea has a high Vitamin K concentration and will counteract anti-coagulant drugs, Mrs. Melkamp said.

Mrs. Knapp, 101 Northland Drive, in Glen Carbon, invited the club to her home March 12 for a luncheon and the installation of officers. The installation committee is Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Melkamp.

SIUE offers computer camp for youngsters

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will again offer a series of computer day camps this summer for children, ages 7 through 15, according to Don Baden, associate dean of the School of Education.

The day camps are scheduled June 17 through June 28, July 1 through July 13, July 15 through July 29 and July 29 through Aug. 9. Classes will meet from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. each day. The July 4th session will be made up on Saturday, July 6.

REGISTRATION for each day camp is $125, which includes a non-refundable registration fee. Students must provide their own lunches.

Children will be grouped according to age and computer experience for highly individualized, hands-on instruction on Apple IIe microcomputers. Several computer languages will be available, including LOGO, BASIC and PASCAL.

In addition to three hours of computer instruction each day, the students will receive three hours of recreation. Swimming, tennis, racquetball, soccer, softball, basketball and hiking will be among the recreational activities available to the students.

NEARLY 700 STUDENTS are expected to participate in the classes. "The sessions fill quickly, so I would suggest parents registering their children early to avoid disappointment," Baden said.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Baden in the SIUE School of Education by calling 1-692-3643.

SIU trustees receive report on Wagner Complex

Six options for dealing with a structural failure in Building 194 at the Wagner Complex of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were presented last week in a report to the SIU Board of Trustees.

The building, a part of the seven-acre Wagner tract in Edwardsville, which housed offices, classrooms and studios for the university's department of art and design until the structural failure was observed

Oct. 10, has been vacated pending a decision regarding future use of the building.

THE OPTIONS were included in a report prepared for the university by William R. Thompson, president of Thompson Associates, Inc. of Troy, Thompson is a registered architect, structural engineer and professional engineer. The report was discussed Thursday morning in a meeting of the Architecture and Design Committee of the Board of Trustees. Others attending the public meeting included representatives of the Goshen Preservation Alliance and the Edwardsville Historic Preservation Committee.

The options and estimated costs detailed in the Thompson report are:

—Shore the entire building, and other repairs, at a cost of $132,000.

—SHORE THE SOUTH 100 feet of the building and remove the front 164 feet, $60,000.

—Partial structural restoration of the building, $225,000.

—New structure from footings up for entire length of building (264 feet), $402,000.

—DEMOLITION of entire building; re-route utilities and weatherize common wall of Building 196, $75,000.

—Allow building to remain as-is; revise utilities, $30,000.

SIUE President Earl Lazerson said the options are being reviewed by university officers, and recommendations will be presented at the March 14 meeting of the Board of Trustees.

THE WAGNER complex, located at Hale and Brown streets in Edwardsville, is a former industrial site which had nine buildings when it was acquired by the university in 1963, prior to the opening of the permanent campus southwest of Edwardsville in 1965. The Wagner buildings have served a variety of needs for the university, but in recent years, steps have been taken to consolidate operations on the central campus.

Currently, the only operating functions of SIUE housed at the Wagner Complex are programs of the department of art and design, and the university has planned since 1970 to move the department to the main campus when space could be provided. In the Fiscal Year 1986 budget recommendations, the Illinois Board of Higher Education has proposed planning money for a new building for this purpose on the central campus.

All activity in Building 194 was halted after university officers observed on Oct. 10 that roof trusses in the structure were failing. Affected by the evacuation were six members of the faculty of the department of art and design, two members of the staff, and 187 students in 14 classes. By Oct. 13, all classes had been relocated to other buildings in the Wagner Complex and to the main campus.

THE WAGNER buildings were constructed during the 1890s when the industrial site was developed by the N. O. Nelson Co., a manufacturer of plumbing fixtures. Wagner Electric Co. acquired the plant in the 1930s.

Architects picked for SIUE projects

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees last week approved the selection of architects for Child Care Center and outdoor swimming pool projects at SIUE at Edwardsville and recommended to the Capital Development Board (CDB) an architect for repair of the underground hallway between Buildings II and III at SIUE.

The Board also gave project approval and approval of plans and specifications for modifications to parking lots A and D at SIUE.

THE PROJECTS, budgets and architects selected were:

—Child Care Center, to be located in the area south of the campus water tower and north of Circle Drive; budget of $280,500 funded jointly by the SIUE Student Welfare and Recreation Facility (SWRF) trust fund and internal operating funds; architectural and engineering services by Harold L. LePere and Associates, Belleville.

—Outdoor swimming pool, to be located at the Tower Lake Recreation Peninsula; budget of $425,000 funded by SWRF trust fund monies; architectural and engineering services by Booker Associated, Inc. of Illinois, Fairview Heights.

—REPAIR OF subsidence and leakage problems associated with the underground hallway between Classroom Buildings II and III; budget of $390,800 appropriated by the CDB; David A. Loyett Associates, Highland, recommended to the CDB for retention as architect.

The parking lot modifications, estimated to cost $316,000, are needed because of the construction of Vadalabene Center. The project includes a new access road from Circle Drive to service Lots A and D, and improve traffic flow; improved pedestrian walkways from the core buildings to the Vadalabene Center; and installation of additional high mount lighting in the lots.

Parking will be increased by 76 spaces in Lots A and D, including 12 handicapped and 32 metered spaces adjacent to Buildings II and III. Plans and specifications were developed by Plant Operations personnel, and the cost of the project will be funded from SIUE parking and traffic revenue monies.

Dr. Doisy initiated in the American College of Surgeons

Dr. Edward A. Doisy III, a Granite City eye surgeon, was among 1,600 initiates from around the world, who became Fellows of the American College of Surgeons during convocation ceremonies that were held during the college's recent annual Clinical Congress in San Francisco.

Fellows of the college, which is the largest organization of surgeons in the world, have the right to use the designation "FACS" (Fellow, American College of Surgeons) after their names by meeting the college's membership requirements. An applicant for fellowship must be a graduate of an approved medical school, must have completed advanced training in general surgery or in one of the surgical specialties recognized by the college, and must have been in practice for at least two years. Before being admitted into fellowship, each surgeon also must have given evidence of ethical practice and good character and must have been approved for membership by three-fourths of the college's Board of Regents.

The convocation ceremony was the highlight of the five-day meeting, which included research-in-progress reports, postgraduate course, panel discussions and symposia and scientific and industrial exhibits.

The Clinical Congress was attended by more than 19,000 surgeons and their families, members of other medical disciplines, and members of the scientific and consumer media. Of the 1,600 initiates, 1,400 surgeons were from the United States and Canada and 180 surgeons were from other nations.

Accident, injuries on Niedringhaus Ave.

Two motorists were hurt this week in an accident on Niedringhaus Avenue near Washington Avenue and one driver was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

Reports said an auto operated by Patricia S. Watson, 28, of 2134 Grand Ave., traveling on Niedringhaus Avenue, struck the rear of the parked vehicle of Herman H. Miller Jr., 53, of 2177 Bern Ave.

Mrs. Watson and Miller sustained injuries and went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment, reports said.

At the hospital, Mrs. Watson consented to take a blood alcohol test and was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident. She was later released on notice to appear for a court hearing.

VENICE POLICE ALLEGED CANNABIS POSSESSION. Courtney C. Maple, 21, of 632 Lincoln Ave., Venice, was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis and driving while his license was suspended when arrested during the weekend in the 700 block of Broadway.

Maple allegedly was seen by officers driving a vehicle prior to the car stopping at the Venice Gas and Oil service station.

When the vehicle was halted another man was driving the same auto, it was alleged. No charges were filed against the latter individual.

Allegedly, two plastic bags containing a green leafy substance were found in the vehicle, which was tested prior to the cannabis charge being filed, reports said.

Multiple addictions can be difficult to overcome

What may begin as the innocent use of a prescription drug for stress or insomnia can result in a harmful addiction, notes a physician at Talbot Hall Chemical Dependency Center of St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

"Worse, when combined with alcohol or other drugs, the use of sedative or tranquilizer can be lethal," he said.

Over half the prescription drugs most commonly prescribed in the United States contain at least one ingredient that interacts adversely with alcohol, according to Dr. Norman medical director of Talbot Hall. Mixing drugs and alcohol accounts for more than 2,500 deaths and 47,000 admissions to emergency rooms each year.

"We hear about the celebrities who die from lethal overdoses of different drugs taken in combination, but there are thousands more we never hear about, and some of their stories are tragic," he said.

More than half of all patients in chemical dependency treatment centers across the country are addicted to alcohol as well as one or more prescription drugs, according to Dr. Claybourn.

"Where we add cocaine and other street drugs to the prescription drugs, the cross-addiction rate with alcohol can rise as high as 80 percent," he points out. Underscoring how multiple addiction is increasing, Claybourn cited a recent survey by Alcoholics Anonymous of its 165,000 members in the United States and Canada which shows that dual addiction was reported by 79 percent of the total under-31 age group. Among all AA members, dual addiction increased from 24 percent to 31 percent when compared to AA's 1980 survey. But the prevalence of drug addiction coupled with alcoholism rises to almost twice the 31 percent figure when AA's data is examined by gender and age.

The cross-addiction phenomenon is nothing new, according to Dr. Claybourn. "What is new are the high numbers of people who simultaneously abuse alcohol and other 'hard' drugs, especially cocaine. This is an extremely dangerous activity that can be fatal," he warns.

Claybourn says that those who permanently recover from alcohol and drug addiction constitute a very small minority of the people who abuse these chemicals regularly.

"One addiction is difficult enough to overcome," he remarked.

"When you increase the number of addictions — say to alcohol and a barbiturate, or alcohol and cocaine, the chances of voluntarily seeking treatment and recovery are significantly decreased."

But there is good news, according to Claybourn. "We have been very successful in interrupting the drug and alcohol abuse patterns of thousands through intervention. Intervention is a process in which family members, friends and others confront the abuser with evidence about his drug or alcohol-related behavior that cannot be denied, he explained.

"It is vital that we break through his denial system, which is very strong among those addicted," Claybourn stated emphatically, adding that intervention does "break through denial, but it requires professional help."

More information about chemical dependency and intervention may be obtained by calling Talbot Hall at 796-3069.

Tax tips

Many simple errors that can cause delay in the processing of federal income tax returns could be avoided if taxpayer used the labels and envelopes that accompany their tax packages, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The peel-off label, which contains the taxpayer's name, address and social security number, is designed to expedite processing at IRS service centers and prevent common errors that can delay issuance of refund checks.

A common misconception is that using the peel-off address label will trigger an audit. Actually, coding on the label identifies the taxpayer and the kind of forms contained in his or her tax package. It does not in any way indicate the return should be audited.

One of the common and yet most troublesome errors that can be averted by use of the label is the listing of an incorrect or illegible Social Security number. Such an error can take weeks or even months to correct, and is one of the major causes of delayed refunds.

The IRS advises taxpayers to use the label, even if corrections are necessary. For example, in the case of a change of address, the correction should be made directly on the label.

Errors can also be averted if taxpayers use the special pre-addressed envelope, which speeds sorting of tax returns during the annual deluge of mail that arrives at the ten IRS service centers.

IRS also advises taxpayers to round off cents to the nearest dollar when figuring federal income taxes. However, taxpayers should be consistent. If you do round off do so for all amounts. Drop amounts under 50 cents and increase amounts from 50 to 99 cents to the next dollar. Taxpayers are likely to make fewer math errors by rounding off.

Dental program for the low income is recognized

Dr. F. Scott Hendrickson, who practices general dentistry at 2945 Madison Ave., and is the executive councilman representing one-sixth of the dentists in Illinois to the Illinois State Dental Society, announced this week an award received for the ISDS "TOTAL-DENT" program.

TOTAL-DENT, the ISDS access program to low-income citizens, was awarded the American Dental Association's Certificate of Recognition and the association wrote, "The dental society's efforts to increase access to dental care for the indigent population was most commendable. We believe such program increases the visibility of the dental profession's commitment to serve the public."

TOTAL-DENT was created in August 1982. The ISDS Executive Council felt there was a need to provide dental care to all residents of Illinois who lack resources and are not covered by any type of prepayment program to qualify for the TOTAL-DENT program, a single person must earn less than $7,000, a married couple's combined income must be less than $10,000 and persons cannot be eligible for any other dental insurance.

Those qualifying are eligible for a 20 percent reduction or more in fees, depending on the procedures. Persons meeting the criteria may call the TOTAL-DENT toll-free number at ISDS headquarters, 1-800-252-2930.
